Agenda

- Current HQ ACPERS Universe
  - Reasons to Redesign
- New Universes
  - Redesigned HQ ACPERS
  - Civilian Personnel Monthly History
  - iComplaints
- Demo of Redesigned HQ ACPERS Universe

HQ ACPERS Universe Reasons to Redesign

- Legacy Mainframe System – Outdated Technology
- Business Objects Requires a Relational Database such as Oracle
- Monthly Data Load from Mainframe to Oracle
  - 2 Days Downtime
- Database Not Designed for ad-hoc Reporting
  - Tables Don’t Relate Logically
  - Easy to Create a Bad Query
- All records are exposed
  - No Record-Level Security

HQ ACPERS Universe Redesigned

- Same Data – Organized Better
- Nightly Updates
  - Downtime – Approx 1 Hour per Day
- Database Design similar to CSU Database (Regional Report Data Universe)
  - Difficult to create a bad query
- Development Complete
- Testing in Progress
- Production Deployment Planned for Late Spring 2004

HQ ACPERS Universe Redesigned, Cont

- Row-Level Security
  - Uses CSU Account Permissions
- Your Business Objects Documents Need to be Recreated Against New Universe
- Legacy HQ ACPERS Universe will remain on-line until Fall 2004

Civilian Personnel Monthly Data Universe

- CPMF (Civilian Personnel Master File)
  - Universe Name: Civilian Personnel Monthly Data Universe
  - Monthly Snapshots of data back to 1990
  - Partial data prior to 1990 (from WASS)
- Both HQ ACPERS and Civilian Personnel Monthly Data Universe will be Deployed at Army Central Data Center in Rock Island, IL
  - Requires ART Account until Army Portal is Deployed

Other ‘New’ Universes

- iComplaints Universe
  - In Development
  - Projected Testing to begin May 2004
  - Projected Deployment – June 2004
